ABOUT US

C³ Expo GmbH is an owner-managed family business with locations in Mannheim and Bernau near Berlin. Since 1995, we have been developing and implementing unique brand experiences in the fields of live marketing and trade show construction that inspire and bring brands to life. With creative concepts, technical expertise, and high quality standards, we successfully execute both national and international trade show projects. In doing so, we always strive to create sustainable and extraordinary brand experiences.

For our Mannheim location, we are currently seeking a dedicated Exhibition Stand Designer (m/f/d) to support our projects with technical expertise, creativity, and precision.

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

- Creating technical design, shop, and construction drawings for custom trade show booths
- Developing customized technical solutions that balance design and functionality
- Designing special structures as well as detailed shop and fabrication plans
- Close technical coordination with our project management team
- Preparation of bills of materials, manufacturing documents, and technical project documentation
- Technical support for national and international trade show setup and teardown

YOUR PROFILE

- Completed technical training or a technical degree
- Professional experience in trade show construction is a plus
- Very good CAD skills
- Strong technical understanding and spatial awareness
- A structured and independent work style
- Class B driver's license
- Willingness to travel worldwide for work

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT FROM US

- Performance-based compensation
- Statutory vacation entitlement plus 4 additional vacation days
- Exciting national and international trade show projects
- A creative work environment with varied tasks
- Short decision-making processes and flat hierarchies
- Modern equipment and state-of-the-art workstations
- Long-term prospects at a successful family-owned company

WHY C³ EXPO?

With us, you don't just create CAD plans—you actively help shape projects. We're looking for people who take on responsibility, contribute ideas, and work with our team to bring extraordinary trade show projects to life.
