ABOUT US

C³ Expo GmbH is an owner-managed family business with locations in Mannheim and Bernau near Berlin. Since 1995, we have been developing and implementing unique brand experiences in the fields of live marketing and trade show construction that inspire and bring brands to life. With creative concepts, technical expertise, and high quality standards, we successfully execute both national and international trade show projects. In doing so, we always strive to create sustainable and extraordinary brand experiences.

For our Mannheim location, we are currently seeking a dedicated Project Manager for Trade Show Construction (m/f/d) to provide expert support to our clients and oversee projects from the initial concept through to successful implementation.

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

- Independently managing and advising existing and new clients
- Managing national and international trade show projects from the initial inquiry through to follow-up
- Preparing quotes, cost estimates, and project budgets
- Coordinating internal departments as well as external service providers and suppliers
- Technical and organizational project planning, as well as schedule and cost control
- On-site support for our clients during the trade show
- Preparation of scope of work documents, requests for proposals, and project documentation
- Participating in client presentations and assisting with new client acquisition

YOUR PROFILE

- Completed business or technical training or a relevant degree
- Professional experience in project management, ideally in trade show construction or the events industry
- Strong communication and organizational skills
- Independent, structured, and solution-oriented approach to work
- Confident demeanor and a strong focus on customers and service
- Good knowledge of German and English
- Class B driver's license
- Willingness to travel domestically and internationally

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT FROM US

- Performance-based compensation
- Statutory vacation entitlement plus four additional vacation days
- Exciting national and international trade show projects
- A creative work environment with varied tasks
- Short decision-making processes and flat hierarchies
- Modern equipment and state-of-the-art workstations
- Long-term prospects at a successful family-owned company

WHY C³ EXPO?

With us, you don't just coordinate projects—you actively help shape them. We're looking for people who take on responsibility, inspire clients, and work with our team to bring extraordinary trade show projects to life.
